An avid storyteller across multiple mediums - writing, design, and video production.

Years spent working as a set designer shaped my instinct for building compelling scenes and understanding how to capture them on camera. I later applied this knowledge in my role as a content creator and social media manager for one of the largest shopping centres in Slovakia. My responsibilities included researching and implementing trends, producing video and photographic content for Instagram, TikTok and Facebook, documenting events, and analyzing post performance across all platforms.

I am passionate about creating meaningful, engaging video content and consistently bringing fresh ideas to the table, drawing on my broad experience in the social media landscape.
